CBI invites you to a Webinar
“Thailand - political, economic and investment update featuring British Ambassador, H.E. Mark Kent”

09:00 UK Time / 16:00 Bangkok Time / 17:00 Beijing Time

Thursday, 29th October 2015

As part of the CBI's ASEAN offering, we would be delighted to invite you to join us at a webinar hosted by the British Embassy Bangkok on 29th October.

This is an invaluable opportunity for interested businesses to hear the latest Thailand political, economic and investment analysis from the British Ambassador.

Thailand is the second largest economy in South-East Asia, a market of 600m people, with a pedigree of ease of doing business and respect for British quality and ingenuity. How does the situation on the ground look 16 months on from the coup? A new draft constitution was recently rejected, delaying elections until 2017. Coupled with this political backdrop, Thailand has not been immune to the global economic headwinds. A new economic team is in place but how do they plan to inject confidence into the Thai economy? Will new measures to encourage FDI prove more attractive than the offers of ASEAN neighbours? And what are the opportunities for UK businesses?
